WE BEGIN THE YEAR

The 1966 school year brought about many transformations, including the publishing of one of the closing editions of the Follies. Because of the reorganization plan for Auburn, Waterloo, and Ashley, a new DeKalb High School is under construction. This means not only the approaching close of Auburn High School, but also the beginning of new challenges in another school and among new friends.

There were many newcomers, both in the faculty and in the student body, at Auburn High School this past year. These people did not remain strangers for long but were made welcome and were soon absorbed into the daily life at AHS.

In opening the school year the students of Auburn High School inaugurated a year overflowing with unlimited opportunities to study and learn new and fascinating subjects, to make new and lasting friendships, and to practice the art of sportsmanship. This memorable year will not end, but will long linger in the minds of those who valued it most.

KATHY REIGNS AS MISS AHS

Along with the beginning of a new school year, September brought the Free Fall Fair. This officially began the 1965-1966 season as the traditional initiation by the Y clubs gave the mischievous sophomores and seniors a chance to show their seniority. Lovely AHS Senior Kathy Holdeman was second runner up in the Miss DeKalb County contest at the Fair.

Lynn Gunzenhauser and Cheryl Seifert reflect some of the work that kept them busy during the summer months while they were Candystripers at the DeKalb Memorial Hospital.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES SPUR YOUTH

Sally Davis was caught by the spell of this familiar Walt Disney character when she visited the World's Fair on the Junior-Senior Trip last June.

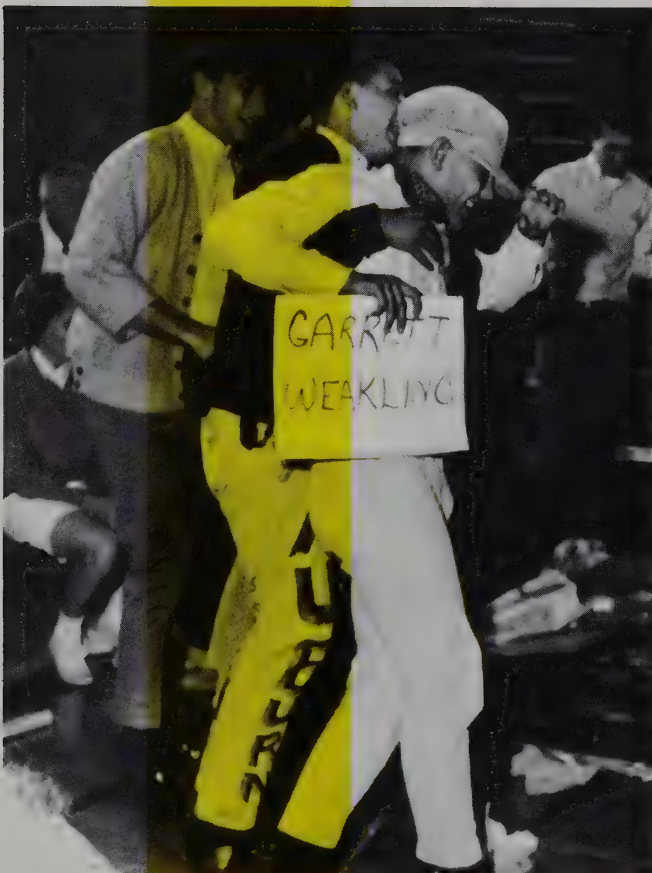

These AHS football players display their enthusiasm in preparation for the October 20 Homecoming game against Garrett.

MASS SPIRIT LIVENS SCHOOL LIFE

Behind the scenes, Carole Thomas and Barb Long prepare for the usual halftime rush when fans grab a sandwich before the game resumes.

Many hours of hard work went into making the Homecoming float this year which exhibited Homecoming Queen Carolyn Gray and her attendants, Debbie Summers, Kathy Holdeman, Becky Tucker, Vicki Lockwood, and Marianne Grueter.

AUTUMN SLENDOR SEEKS A QUEEN

The class representatives watched closely while Senior Class President John Morningstar crowned Homecoming Queen Carolyn Gray. This was a grand climax for her since she had represented her class for each of her four years of high school. "Autumn Splendor" was selected as the theme for this year's Homecoming float. Carolyn proudly sat on her throne, revealing the familiar smile which made her many friends.

"Y" CLUBS' DANCES ADD SPICE

Russ Hoff and Barb Steininger exchange glances as they pose for the Follies photographer at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Uh, Oh,—Max Myers is caught in the dog house of Dogpatch as he watches his fellow Li'l Abners being snagged for Marryin' Sam.

This year's Christmas Formal set the stage for an enhancing evening to remember—at least for Mona Hess and Steve Bueker.

These two couples are taking advantage of the chance to relax between dances to enjoy each other's company.

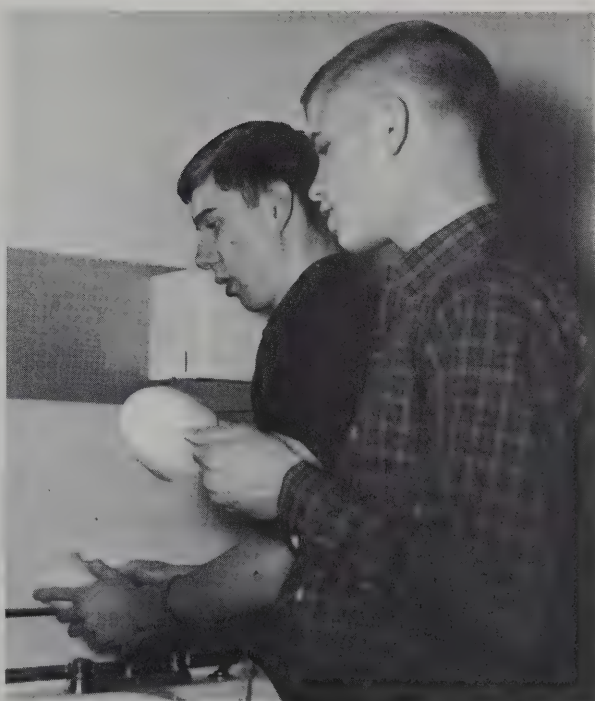

This usually happened every day to at least one AHSer, but Mike Nickols wishes it had happened to someone else.

Loaded with the burdens of being a freshman, Chris Bassett contemplates putting an end to her problems with a toy gun.

STUDENTS CAUGHT IN THE ACT

ACTION FADS BREAK ROUTINE

Summer and the early part of the school season this year gave students time to enjoy their bicycles built for two. Students from all classes are pictured at the starting line before their tandem race commences.

A strong wind and loss of balance found Mona Hess in a rather uncomfortable skating position, but she was probably not the only one!

Jay Sisson and Greg Frownfelter are just two among many who used Hondas as their transportation during this school year. This noisy fad was one of the most popular with the boys.

CHOW TIME FINDS MANY ATMOSPHERES

Julie Seavers believes that lunch is the shortest forty minutes of the day as she hurriedly enjoys her noon break. An apple, a sandwich, and a carton of milk taste good to her.

Countdown—12:18, 12:19, 12:20—go!! This scene typifies the lunch hour rush when classes are dismissed. No matter where lunch is eaten, the break is welcomed.

Larry Lochner portrays Old Man Penniweather in one of the stories included in this year's Christmas program.

ASSEMBLIES WIDEN STUDENTS' SCOPE

Perhaps the most meaningful assembly this year was the program sponsored by the Indiana State Prison.

To promote sales for this year's Follies, the staff arranged a court trial skit. Here, "Baby Face Deb" has been called to the witness stand as the jury looks on.

Harmony is the key word for the DeKalb Central United School District. Excitement of the significant ground-breaking program was shared by all high school students of Auburn, Waterloo, and Ashley. Work on the new school began in September, shortly after officials dug the first hole in the earth. Students are looking forward to the consolidated high school. The band and chorus aided in bringing greater meaning to the ceremony as its future students eagerly looked on.

Harmony is signified by these buses which brought band members from each of the three high schools for the groundbreaking.

HARMONY UNITES SCHOOLS

Cold weather prevailed, but Mr. King and Mr. Showalter were on hand to share the students' excitement over plans for the new school.

Construction of the new school has just begun; but however crude it may seem now, its completion will offer a wide range of opportunities for the student of tomorrow.

Pep Club was a good place to look for some hard-working girls. This picture captures the more serious side of seniors—defeat.

The unusual pose by Randy Morton just goes to prove that there is a nut in every tree.

TIMES THAT SIGNIFY SENIORITY

These seniors "ham it up" for Follies photographer, but almost anywhere there was usually a group of these fun-loving AHS students.

"How do you get out of here?" Bill Tharpe and Pete Byal aren't prepared for their speech test today.

Bill Hunter utilizes his study hall time exceptionally well. He discovered that the hard desks can serve a dual purpose.

VARIETY HIGHLIGHTS 1966

Stripes and plaids, red and orange denote the origin of a new AHS trend on Clash Day. Steve Carr and Norma Bair model combinations frequently seen during this day.

Paul Yoder and Jay Sisson are admiring the Easter bunny created by the ingenious art classes. This bunny was given to the patients at the Fort Wayne State School.

ACADEMICS

Day after day much time was spent in rooms 105, 202, and 207 multiplying, solving equations, and working with geometric figures. The students found that it is necessary to do many problems in order to learn the fundamentals, which may prove helpful to them in our scientific world.

For six weeks during December and January a group of seniors met at 7:30 each weekday morning to study a semester course in "Modern Topics in Mathematics."

Mrs. Teter taught this new concept in math. Among the topics presented were sets, Venn diagrams, systems of numeration, inequalities and principles of natural numbers.

This group had studied the more traditional curriculum and desired to obtain a better understanding of the newer concepts of mathematics.

NEW HORIZONS THROUGH MATH

Greg Frownfelter is very engrossed in getting his lesson ready for Mrs. Teter's class. Her students learn how to use a slide rule with precision.

Shelley McIntyre, Teresa Wisner, and Malinda Henning are working hard to achieve just the right formula for their experiments in hopes of receiving the correct results.

SCIENCE INTENSIFIES PLANS

The science curriculum of Auburn High School is both varied and ambitious in scope. Three science fields are offered. Biology, chemistry, and physics are the primary sciences, with advanced biology, advanced chemistry, and physical science also presented to the students. Among several field trips taken by these classes was a visit by the physical science class to radio station WKJG in Fort Wayne.

Jerry Cripe, Auburn High School's top scientist, received an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., for a week to compete for a Westinghouse scholarship.

Jerry was among 40 selected from over 30,000 entrants by obtaining high scores on an achievement test and submitting a science research project. All national winners held a public exhibition of their projects. The students had worked on these projects during their spare time and during summer vacations.

At the end of the week, awards were made, with AHS's Jerry Cripe being the proud recipient of a $250 scholarship.

Jerry Cripe achieved the honor of being named as one of America's top 40 young scientists of 1966 displaying much promise in the near future. This honor was given to Jerry by Westinghouse Corp.

COMMUNICATIONS IMPROVED

The Devils' Journal was granted a chapter membership to the Quill and Scroll Society in 1962. Last December there were three staff members honored with individual memberships. Dee Lynn Brown, Cynthia Friend, and Kendra Weiler have met the high standards set by the Society and are active in keeping the standards at a high level.

The two speech classes presented two one-act plays to junior high students. These were "All On A Saturday Morning" and "The Leading Lady". During the year, these classes performed "Visit To A Small Planet," "Journey to Trenton", "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You In The Closet, and I'm Feeling So Sad" to several other classes at AHS. Besides presenting radio plays and short skits, the classes presented a group skit on the last day of school.

AHS attains another first. Kendra Weiler, Dee Lynn Brown, and Cynthia Friend are charter members of Quill and Scroll.

Then you whip and whip and whip ... Bill Tharpe demonstrates to his speech class just how easy it is to make Whip and Chill.

Margaret Sellew and Beryl Jeakle display traits which they have acquired through the many challenging speech classes of this year.

BY PRACTICAL LEARNING

AHS has increased its language program to include several years of different languages. At present, three years of French, two years of Spanish, two years of Latin, and two years of German are offered to students. More and more students are becoming interested in foreign languages probably because of the ever-expanding scope of today's business world.

The audio-visual program encompasses all areas of the curriculum. Not only do teachers use the materials in their presentations, but also the students are encouraged to utilize them in their class work. Films, records, tapes, filmstrips, slides, and transparencies have enhanced teaching and made subject matter more meaningful.

Language students listen and respond to records to better comprehend their day's lesson.

Math students are aided by the overhead projector. Here, Mrs. Teter more clearly illustrates a difficult problem.

Underclassmen are well on their way to learning to communicate in the German language, a language other than their own.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES ARE OUR

Ivan Graves diligently sands the rough spots on the board to obtain the desired texture for his shop project.

One of the agricultural students helps harvest the corn field owned and farmed by the high school.

Vocational classes and organizations are important to the AHS general program. Many farm projects were carried out on a practical scale by each member during the year. Not only were these profitable financially, but also they provided the supervised experience needed to make successful farmers.

Under the careful supervision of Miss Mary C. Wood, shorthand characters slowly begin to make sense, and before the year is ended students are "taking letters" quickly and accurately.

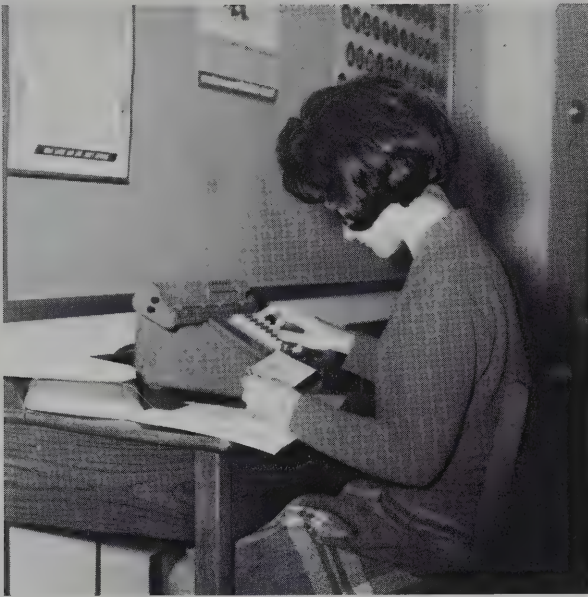

By the end of the school year, typing has advanced from that famous "hunt and peck" method to a very fast and accurate system.

Sometimes home economics classes can be fun. This year some of the girls made stuffed animals. Others made clothes that they can model for their friends and relatives.

BUILDING BLOCKS FOR THE FUTURE

The calculator enables Lynn Gunzenhauser to obtain the accuracy she needs to complete her clerical practice problems.

Wayne Sponhower and Jack Pommert are working on their speed drills in typing. Typing helps many students get assignments in on time.

FINE ARTS INSPIRE CREATIVITY

There is beauty in everything though not everyone can see it. Some see a lovely picture in a "deserted house settling sideways into the grass of an old road." Others see an unsightly shack that should be torn down. The study of art gives one that appreciation of the beautiful things, both natural and manufactured.

The band has participated at basketball and football games, patriotic programs, and the Christmas program. It has added color to our games and given greater enthusiasm to the spectators with its rousing marches. The band did excellent formation marching, and the spectators seemed well pleased with the twirling accomplishments of the several majorettes.

This year's chorus sang for school assembly programs, women's clubs in Auburn, and the honor banquet; and also attended the state chorus contest. The chorus presented its annual spring show, "Spring Fever", with great success.

Art students transfer their personalities into their modern creations. Here students are making ceramics and drawing portraits of their fellow students.

Cindy Fahl and Mr. Thomas are having quite a lengthy discussion about colleges. Mr. Thomas is trying to help Cindy decide on what college to attend and what courses she should take.

GUIDANCE AIDS FUTURE FITNESS

It is envisioned through the individualized instruction program that the instruction in the basic academic subjects will be brought down to the ability level of each educationally deprived student. It is anticipated that this individualized attention and experience of success will improve the self-image of these students as worthwhile citizens of the community. Math and English are areas of high concentration.

Individual counseling is offered to help students improve self-understanding, discuss educational and vocational plans and meet the day-to-day personal and social demands in the home, school, and community.

The physical education department's gymnastics program was expanded this year with the addition of two major pieces of equipment. Some students took advantage of a new tumbling belt to improve hand-springs while others used it to learn advanced skills on the trampoline. The balance beam presented girls with the unique challenge of performing gracefully on a narrow beam four feet above the floor.

STUDENTS ARE CHALLENGED "TO BE"

Dick Ward, Mona Hess, Cindy Jackman, and Jo Storey have found that the library proves to be both helpful and entertaining.

Pat Oppen, Meg Sockrider, Betsy Brown, and Steve Stafford are preoccupied with travel plans.

FOLLIES HONOR STUDENTS

TEACH AND BE TAUGHT

In his first year at AHS our warm-hearted principal and friend has shown to us that improvement is always possible. Mr. Tilson King has done an untiring job of lifting AHS to large-school standards. AHS is justifiably proud of its new head.

-LEAD US

An extended hand goes to our devoted superintendent with bigger and better plans for the DeKalb County Central United School District. Besides keeping our present schools in tip-top condition, he strives to perfect our high school of the future.

The school district's supply purchaser, transportation manager, and general business manager is Assistant Superintendent Roger Hess. The school system is kept in good working order by this busy educator.

ADMINISTRATION PLANS NEW SCHOOL

THOSE THAT LEND A HELPING HAND

Better than any "Mr. Clean" our efficient custodians keep our halls and classrooms spotless. Mr. Melvin Surfus, Mrs. Marie Blevins, and Mr. Harold Link are the secret agents that we thank for the shining appearance of our school.

The bubbling smiles and busy hands of the secretaries, Mrs. Jean James and Mrs. Evelyn Kolbe, are always at our service to battle schoolday problems that arise in the lives of AHS students.

Mrs. Doris Metcalf, Mrs. Marilyn Gurtner, Mrs. Carma-Jean Eckert, and Mrs. Mona June Bacon combine their energy and skills to operate an efficient DeKalb Central United School District headquarters.

"Hello ladies, greetings gents, Auburn's Pep Club now presents," was the familiar chant which began the Pep Club's half-time shows during the half of all varsity games.

This year the Pep Club consisted of approximately 145 enthusiastic members. They gathered in the gym on Thursdays to practice their songs and motions which made up their colorful half-time shows.

An added feature this year was the new red and

This year Sue Cole was again elected president of the Pep Club. This is the first time in the history of the Pep Club that a president has been re-elected. Sue and the other Pep Club officers have devoted much time and work during the year to make it the well-known club that it is.

MIGHTY DEMONS ON TO FAME

In addition to participating in these activities, the girls also sponsored a spring bake sale and a WOWO record hop and went on an overnight camping trip.

On February 12, the Demons traveled to Wabash to compete in the district volleyball meet. They also attended the state gymnastics meet.

The girls have worked hard and have done well for themselves this year. The sponsor, Miss Loretta Young, should be commended for the fine job she has done in organizing the different activities for the girls. She has helped the girls learn that leadership and sportsmanship are the two basic fundamentals of a good G.A.A. member.

"A" MEN SPARK SPIRIT FOR SPORTS

Most of these lettermen are engrossed in the procedures of the meeting, but Dick Ward and Jay Sisson seem to have an eye for the camera.

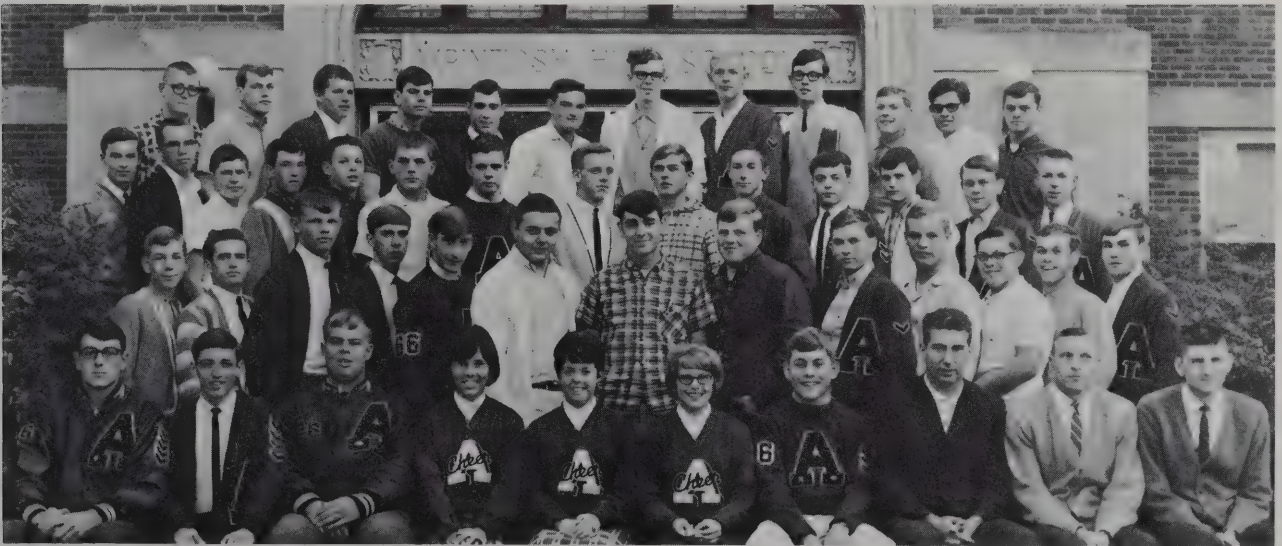

Mutt and Jeff? Not quite, but Larry Lochner and Mr. Wagner seem delighted about something while conducting an "A" men meeting.

The Letterman's Club consists of all who have received a letter in a major or minor sport, cheerleading, or student managing. The letter jackets and letter sweaters are a colorful array around the halls of AHS.

The members serve their community by annually collecting canned goods for the needy families at Christmas time. They also collected money for the securing of an exchange student.

All freshmen and sophomore lettermen in the school district were awarded trophies instead of letters this year. These underclassmen will be eligible to receive letters when DeKalb High School opens in 1967.

"What goes up must always come down" seems to be an appropriate saying for this picture. Dave Rodebaugh and Colynn Bender are shown here taking down the flag for the Student Council.

New basketball programs, continued support of Tam Yat Ming, our Foster Child, and a better and more informative bulletin board are only a few of the many accomplishments of our Student Council this year.

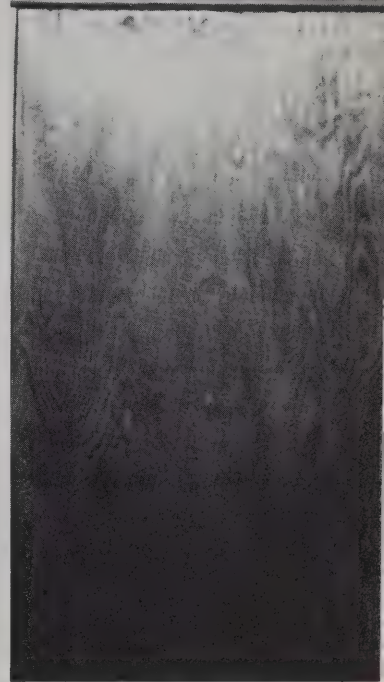

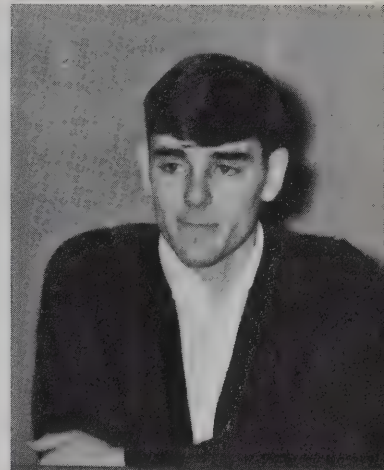

The most outstanding project that the Student Council strived to accomplish this year was the establishment of the Exchange Student Program. To make this project possible it was necessary to raise the sum of $750. This money was obtained in various ways, including individual organization contributions and many money-making projects put on by the Student Council. The Student Council worked with the local American Field Service chapter in striving to make this program possible. The new exchange student was originally planned to come to DeKalb High School in 1967-68, but with much extra effort of the Student Council, the exchange student will attend AHS in 1966-67.

The Student Council should be highly commended for their fine achievements this year and a special acknowledgement paid to John Wilson for his fine job of leadership.

Faced with an important decision, Student Council President John Wilson ponders a problem during one of the weekly meetings.

The Christmas canned food drive proved to be a success when the students and teachers were challenged to compete with each other. The Seniors proved their might by bringing in the most canned goods.

Elmhurst High School's exchange student from Puerto Rico spoke to the student body about his experiences in the United States. Significantly AHS will have an exchange student in 1966-67.

LANGUAGE PRACTICE LEADS

The language clubs are important because they encourage students to strive for a better understanding of the habits of various people.

The Spanish Club is a newly organized club this year. One of their major activities was the production of a Spanish play.

The Latin Club is noted for its annual Latin Banquet which is usually held in the spring. It is always a success and is enjoyed by everyone.

To be a member of the National Honor Society is a great accomplishment for any student. To achieve this goal you must be a well-rounded individual with a high scholastic average.

The Science Club is an organization developed for students interested in the challenges of science. Jerry Cripe has been the outstanding member of this organization and was selected as one of the most promising young scientists of the future.

There is a time to speak and a time to be silent—the Speech Club had quite a time doing both, in '65-'66.

The Speech Club held bi-weekly meetings planned by the Executive Council the first semester and the seniors the second semester.

Throughout the year these performances were staged: the Christmas program, several radio plays, the Little Red School House, Eloise, and the Grand Finale—presented by the senior members.

Props, practice and patience combined with good leadership from Mrs. Jane Williams, the club's advisor, and the many talented students who drove the '65-'66 Speech Club to a dramatic success.

The Auburn High School Band started the school year with vigorous enthusiasm in both marching and playing.

The Red Devil Band was awarded second prize at the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair—they were barely outscored by their arch-rival, Napoleon, Ohio.

During the half-time at basketball and football games the Red Devils entertained with everything from snap-py marches to the popular songs of the day.

The holiday season provided band students with the chance to enjoy deeply the hymns of Thanksgiving and the carols of Christmas. This year the Auburn Band performed in both the Thanksgiving and the Christmas programs.

After the holidays the Red Devil Band began the chore of selecting three contest numbers: a march, an overture, and a composition that fits neither of the prenamed categories. "Woodshedding" was a term Director Norris used to describe extensive work on a particular composition. Measure by measure each composition was torn apart to learn rhythms, notes, and dynamics.

Since the contest was held in LaPorte, Ind., and since the Auburn Band played at 8 P.M., the busses arrived home at 1 A.M. With a few troubles the Red Devils came home victorious. Four out of four judges rated Auburn as a superior band. Auburn had won first place two years in a row, these being the only superiors ever received at the state contest.

The second annual band banquet was held two days after the state contest. This banquet was generously sponsored by the Auburn Band Boosters, who planned a really wonderful night.

Hard work by the students, teamed with patience and good instruction from Mr. Norris, made the '65-'66 Red Devil Band a great success.

"The Men in My Little Girl's Life" was sung by Bernard Muzzillo to his little girl, Shawn Rupert, in the "Spring Fever" concert.

Chorus and action were synonymous terms in '65-'66. The singers started their year by presenting a fall concert. In every man's life there is a time to be thankful and a time to share. The Auburn Chorus sang thanks to God in the Thanksgiving program, and shared the joy of Christmas carols in the Christmas program. To climax a fine year of concerts and contests, a new piano was purchased—a welcomed addition to the Chorus family, headed by Mr. Weck.

A NOSE FOR NEWS IS D. J. CODE

Organizing and producing the Devils' Journal was the job of an enthusiastic group of journalists.

Editor-in-Chief Dee Lynn Brown was chiefly responsible for supervising the newspaper. Lynn Gunzenhauser and Joyce James worked hard to see that every article was worded correctly and that all words were grammatically correct. Supplying most of the important news that circulated around AHS were Kendra Weiler and Cynthia Friend. Dave Rodebaugh kept everybody informed on all phases of sports while Mona Hess strived hard to make sure that everybody had subscribed to the newspaper. Sue Carbaugh and her assistants were responsible for typing the newspaper after everyone had contributed their share. After the typing was completed, Pat Ludwig added her special touches of artwork to make the Devils' Journal almost complete. Marsha Oberlin printed the pages and passed it on to Sue Brown who distributed the completed paper.

This year the Devils' Journal was sponsored by Mrs. Sharon King, a newcomer to AHS.

The student secretaries, librarians, projectionists, and lab assistants are valuable assets to the faculty and student body. They give up their study halls to serve others.

The secretaries work in the principal's office and the guidance office. They do general office work, such as typing, filing, and duplicating papers.

The librarians help Mrs. Reed, the school librarian, and do much to aid their fellow students to find needed materials. The projectionists, also directed by Mrs. Reed, are responsible for showing all the movies which are presented throughout the year.

The lab assistants work in the language lab and are also found in the science labs. Their primary duty is to take care of the equipment in the labs.

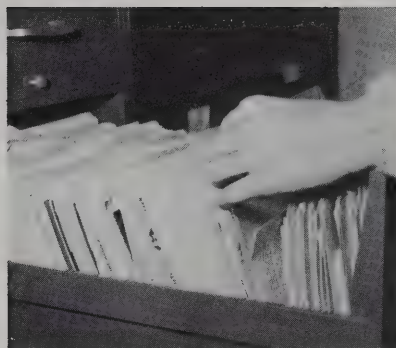

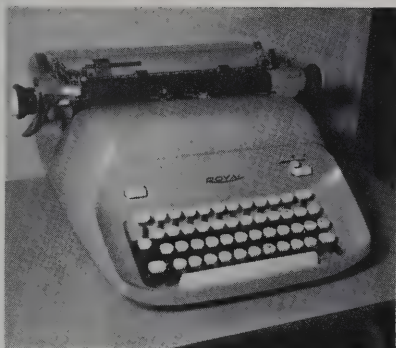

These students should be commended for the fine job they have done throughout the year. They have worked very hard and their services have been appreciated by all.

HEADACHES AND DEADLINES EXHIBIT

The 1966 Follies was organized and produced by a group of hard-working AHS seniors. With the advice of Mr. Robert Love, Editor-in-Chief Diann Kruse and Associate Editor Deb Summers worked closely together this year to make the '66 Follies the best ever! School Life Editors Dianne Williams and Dee Lynn Brown brought back many memories of happenings throughout the year. Class Editors Cindy Jackman and Julie Williams collaborated with Davis Studio to schedule individual pictures of each AHS student. Responsible for taking group pictures were Organization Editors Carolyn Gray and Sue Cole. All phases of sports around AHS received complete coverage by Athletic Editors John Wilson and Trudy Frain. Music and Drama Editor Rex Shellenbarger took care of the pictures of the band, chorus, and speech departments. Vocational Editor Russ Hoff saw to it that all vocational clubs appeared in the Follies. Follies Photographers Greg Frownfelter and Tim Grogg were responsible for taking pictures for the staff. Sales Manager Kathy Holdeman secured subscriptions to the Follies from AHS students. Advertising Managers Johanna Storey and Melinda Herberger solicited funds from local businesses to support the Follies. Taking care of the business expenses was Business Manager John Morningstar. Sara Cook, though not a member of the staff, put as much work into the Follies as did the staff members themselves.

Many study halls, after school hours, and week-ends of work on the Follies occupied Diann Kruse's time. Her position as Editor of the Follies caused her sweat, toil, and tears, but ended in successful accomplishment.

When typing had to be done, Sara was always willing to lend a helping hand. Much work went into putting the '66 Follies together. The staff members should be highly commended for a job well done.

COACHES INSTILL KNOW-HOW-

John Platt

Ned Schlosser

Robert Voelkel

The athletic department was staffed this year by head coaches John Platt, Ned Schlosser, Robert Voelkel, and Jack Wagner. The AHS varsities had thrill-filled seasons in all sports. The newcomer to the staff, Coach Schlosser, displayed his interest in sportsmanship as well as in the winning of the games. Coach Platt directed the varsity football and baseball teams through rewarding seasons just as he has done in many other seasons. Coaches Voelkel and Wagner, respectively, led the cross country and track and golf teams through seasons that gave them much experience.

The assistant coaches, Micheal Lord, Wayne Wyss, and Gary Hillabrand, gave valuable aid to the reserves as they gained the experience needed to join the varsity squads of future years.

Jack Wagner

The AHS assistant coaches brought out the best ability of all the boys on their teams. Gary Hillabrand, Micheal Lord, and Wayne Wyss gave the underclassmen the benefit of their skills.

CHEERLEADERS AROUSE DEVOTION

SUE! LINDA! DIANA, TOO! This was a familiar yell as the Auburn Red Devils said hello to their opponents. Sue Hoff, Linda Smith and Diana Tilghman were Auburn's representatives on the basketball floor. They helped the boys to victory several times by keeping the spirit of the fans going strong.

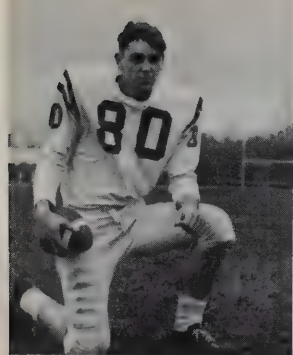

The addition of freshman cheerleaders brought a new light to the freshman basketball games. Rita Shanabarger and Sharon Brace gave the team the encouragement they needed to win.

The reserve cheerleaders, Barbara Raub and Ann Duncan, brought the team through many rough games. They led the Pep Club in backing the reserves and urged their team to win.

Throughout the year, the AHS cheerleaders filled the school and school activities with the spirit needed to urge Red Devil athletic teams to exciting victories.

Mobile, agile, and hostile are three words that adequately characterize Tim Albert. Here Tim eyes paydirt and with a second effort goes in to score.

Down! Set! Hup-two! Off and running is Dave Cramer, "the Mighty Mouse" of the Devils' backfield. Paving the way to another long run are blockers Skip Knauer and Tim Grogg.

GRIDDERS' STAUNCH

As in years past, 1965 was a rebuilding year for the Auburn Red Devils. Despite the lack of returning veterans, the gridders for the Red and Black ended their season resting in third place in the N.E.I.A.C. after compiling a gratifying 5-4 record.

This year's pre-season jamboree was held in Angola. Auburn and Garrett, suited in their "home" white uniforms combined for a startling 40-0 victory over Angola and Kendallville. The Devils and the Hornets battled to a scoreless tie during the first period. The tide turned in the third stanza, and the Devils defeated Kendallville 13-0.

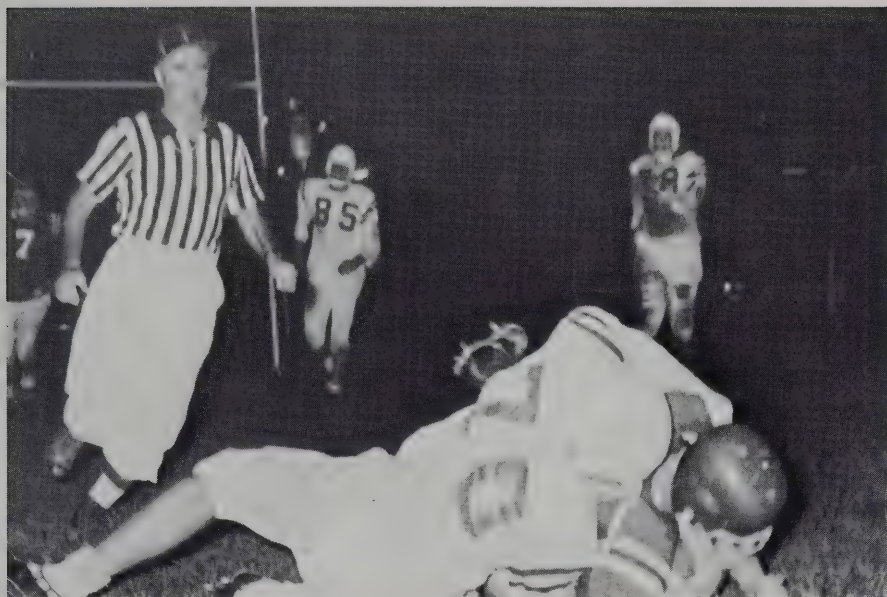

The 1965 grid season opened at home with the Devils coming out on the short end against Bluffton 12-7. A series of fourth quarter mishaps kept the Devils from registering their first victory of the new campaign.

But a revitalized Devil squad gave its fans something to smile about when the Red and Black netted two stout victories over Angola and Columbia City. The Angola contest set hearts thumping as the Devils scored with just three seconds remaining, winning in a squeaker 7-6. The Devils had an easier time with the Eagles, stunning them 27-6. Dave Mitchell tossed two touchdown passes to Tim Albert while Frank Pulver and Skip Knauer tallied the others.

Then the high-flying Satans, trying to halt a long-standing jinx, dropped a 13-6 decision to Concord Township. Seeking revenge, the spirited Devils moved onward to the home of the Berne Bears. Two hours later, despite bad weather conditions and with a great defensive effort, the Devils registered their second conference win by a score of 14-0.

LINE, FLEET BACKS THRILL FANS

Invading the Summit City, the Red and Black, with a faltering offense, found the spirited Ft. Wayne Snider squad too much to handle and fell to a discouraging 14-0 defeat.

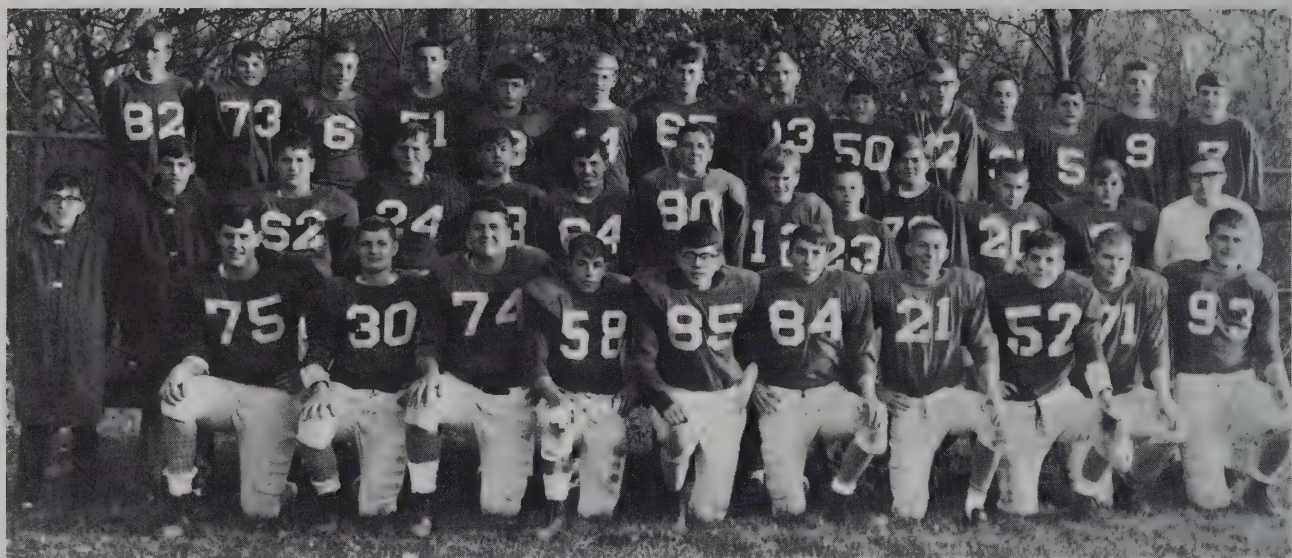

With rivalry at its peak, the undefeated Garrett Railroaders and the Red Devils met to do battle before a capacity homecoming crowd at Earl Carr Memorial Field. It was a game won in the second half as the huskier Garrett bunch wore down a hard-fighting Auburn crew 25-0.

But looking like a new team, the mighty Devils next were an uneven match for the Kendallville Comets, proving so by a score of 39-6.

Then twenty AHS Seniors boarded the bus for the last time as the determined Devils traveled to Decatur for their last contest of the grid season. Victory was surely in the hearts and minds of the boys as they registered their highest point output of the season, stinging the Yellow Jackets 41-14. Knauer, Cramer, Martin, Pulver, Mitchell, and Wilson led the Devils in the scoring department for the stunning victory.

The Red Devils of 1965 ended their campaign with a 5-2 conference record, good for third place, and the offering of an even better season next year.

"A rugged defense is often the best offense," seems to be running through the head of Layton John, as he successfully brings down a rival. Rushing in to make the finishing touches are Imps Garold Kessler and Chris Baysinger.

Tired but smiling faces could mean only one thing: VICTORY! Jon Taylor, Micheal Nichols, Daryl Winebrenner, and Jon Fahl show truly that happiness is the thrill of victory.

Hard running, hard tackling, and hard blocking are all key parts in the game of football. Jim Davis shows what it takes as he plunges headlong through a pack of tacklers. Rushing to assist Jim are teammates Buddy Van Auken and Daryl Winebrenner.

It's a fumble! And as the pile unfolds the official signals a first and ten for the Imps. Pictured in the scramble are John Blosser (76), Barry Taylor (79), Layton John (14), and Pat Opper (51).

The reserve team's record in football this season proved they will be able to fill the large holes left by the departing seniors of the varsity squad. The twenty departing seniors leave the field wide open for the advancing underclassmen. Some of these underclassmen will soon make the fans of the DeKalb High School Barons feel the tension of athletic competition.

Much of the reserves' power was brought about by the scoring ability of backs Chuck Smith and Glenn Stonestreet. They both show promise for the future as they contributed points to the Imps' cause. Both Chuck and Glenn scored an average of one touchdown per game. While these two team members and other players were scoring points, still other members were clearing the way for them. The offensive team showed promise in its support of the scorers. The reserves' defensive line guarded their goal well from their foes and only allowed a total of 97 points to be scored against them.

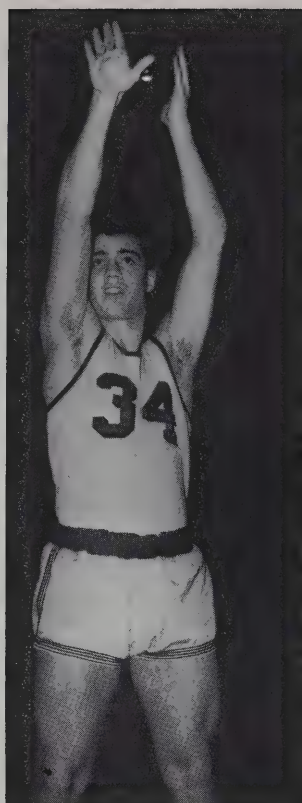

Freshmen and sophomore players will give DeKalb High School a season of exciting football when the school opens in 1967.

Chuck Smith's deceptiveness afoot often fooled many a probable tackler. Here Chuck is shown evading a K'ville defender as Glen Stonestreet (13) rushes in to block.

RED DEVIL QUINTET

Always in the thick of the action was play-maker Dave Rodebaugh. His keen eye for the basket kept many a defender "hopping" as shown here against Churubusco.

The 1965-66 basketball squad, under the reins of Auburn's new coach Ned Schlosser, was driven to a fifth place finish in the N.E.I.A.C., compiling a good 3-5 record. Inexperience and a more deliberate style of play proved too much to handle for the season as the fiery cagers concluded their hardwood campaign 5 and 15.

Auburn's first encounter was on the road as Coach Schlosser unveiled his first Red Devil quintet at the home of the veteran Columbia City Eagles. The Red and Black, who had been tossing footballs just 10 days previous, were not quite ready for a change in sport as they came home dragging an 82-33 defeat. Improvement adorned the court, but next a late Portland rally again left Auburn on the short end, 41-38. Inexperience proved to be the downfall against the Eastside Blazers, 45-40. A barrage of Devil fouls and some sizzling shooting by a strong Huntertown five left the score at 86-53 and Schlosser's boys still eying victory number one. Behind veteran Frank Pulver's 24-point performance, the traditional arch rivals met, with the Garrett Railroaders expected to be the easy victor. But the Devils, looking far superior to their previous performances, moved the confident Railroaders to the edges of their seats with red hot shooting and stiff rebounding. However, the more experienced Garrett giants were finally able to wear down the spirited Devils, 63-50. Just 24 hours later, chants of Victory, Victory, Auburn High, echoed throughout the nest of the Churubusco Eagles.

Steve Carr's deadly corner shot "swished" many a net during the '66 campaign. Thought by many to be the most improved player on the team, Steve "zeros in" after side-stepping a Garrett defender.

GREET'S NEW COACH

Big No. 1, a 65-55 victory, was sparked by Frank Pulver's 32 markers and Dave Mitchell's valuable rebounding. Following a 55-48 setback at the hands of the Kendallville Comets, the Satans began to distribute their scoring punch. Dan Kruse and Tim Grogg each tallied 11 points and Dave Rodebaugh added 8 for the Red and Black as the Angola Hornets nosed out a 68-65 win. In the Huntington Tourney, the Devils were unable to greet victory as the host team won the opener 53-41 with the consolation game going to New Haven, 63-50. Bernard Muzzillo played a strong game under the boards and chipped in 15 points to aid the Devils in securing a 69-62 conference victory over Decatur. Producing one of their finest outputs of the season, the Devils notched a well-deserved victory over the strong Concordia Cadets, 66-59. Steve Carr had a fine night, adding 10 points. After a 57-52 setback to Leo, the Satans trapped the Berne Bears, 85-59. Losses to Bluffton, Ft. Wayne Snider, and North Side brought Schlosser's quintet back to the Alumni Gym where the Devils downed the Minutemen from Concord 55-50. Defeats to Albion and Lakeland ended the regular season of play. The Devils were ousted in the first game of the Sectional by Ligioner 57-51 in an overtime thriller. Frank Pulver was named to the N.E.I.A.C. first team and Steve Carr was granted honorable mention due to their outstanding performances during the season.

Playing perhaps his finest game of his career big Frank Pulver shows finesse and grace in avoiding an even bigger Garrett Railroader. His weekly performances brought him a unanimous first team all-conference choice.

The Devils' all-important 6th man, Dave Mitchell, had an excellent season. His stiff rebounding and hard-driving got the Satans out of many tense situations.

VARSITY ACTION

The season of the reserve team began and ended much the same as that of the varsity five. The first few games showed the team the tough competition they were going to meet all season long. The team gave the fans their first thrill of the season when they won the game against Eastside 41-35. This, the first win of either varsity or reserves, was very encouraging; however the Imps went through the next ten games without a win. The Imps would not give up without a fight in their next two games against Berne and Bluffton and won both by 36-28 and 50-40, respectively. The team was winning but the next foes were some of the best competition the Imps would meet all season. The Imps had fought hard all season to gain their three victories and when the last game of the season came, they went all out to win. Win they did, 54-45!

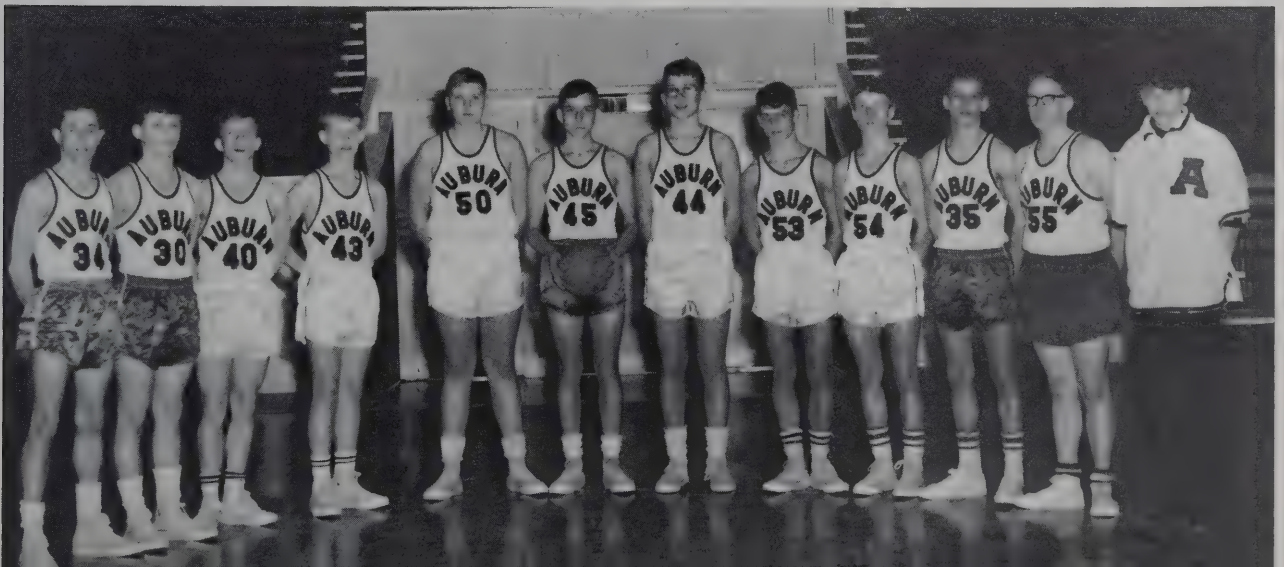

Many of the games that the Imps played during the season were lost by close margins. Two of the closest were against Albion and Decatur where they lost by only 1 and 2 points.

Most of the Imps' points were divided between Daniel Kruse, Jessie Knowles, Glenn Stonestreet, Tim Albert, and Charles Smith. The high point man for the team Jessie Knowles, who scored a total of 122 points. A few of the reserves' players alternated between the varsity and the reserves teams. Daniel Kruse, who scored 95 points for the reserve team, also scored 60 points for the Devils' cause.

FROSH STRIVE FOR HIGHER GOALS

Wayne Wyss, coach of the freshman basketball team, led his boys to a record of 5 wins and 9 losses in a series of 10 regular season games and 4 tourney games. The first two games, in which Auburn met Leo and Churubusco, were lost by scores of 28—34 and 21—33, respectively. The freshmen next played Eastside where they defeated the Blazers 29—26. In the tourney at Garrett, Auburn played Angola in the first game and won 35—25. Auburn proceeded into the final game against Garrett and won 40—37. Next the team won the game against Angola by a score of 35—16.

In the tourney at Kendallville, they fought hard but lost the first game to Garrett by 17—40 and the second to Albion 33—43. Next, in the game against Hometown, the Auburn team lost by a score of 37—41. In the last two games of the season, Waterloo and Ashley, they defeated Ashley 47—31 and lost to Waterloo 29—41.

The freshman guard, Kirk Carpenter, took scoring honors with 113 points, followed by Jerry Kessler and Darryl Winebrenner with 71 and 64 points for the season.

Two more points are added to Auburn's score as Forward Darryl Winebrenner works his way to the basket for an easy lay-up.

THINLIES HOPE FOR FUTURE

The cross country team finished its season with a 0-10 record. They matched themselves against the harriers of Garrett, Angola, Snider of Fort Wayne, and Kendallville. The team placed seventh in the Northeastern Indiana Athletic Conference.

Phil Myers placed first or second in most meets. Phil, Mike Likens, and Ken Folk helped set the pace this year as the Devils ran the long test of endurance. Although the team did not win any meets this year, we can look forward to an exciting season next year as Phil Myers and Ken Folk will be returning to the scene.

Spring brings track and track brought "fun and sport" to AHS. Although the Devils did not win the first three meets, they went on through the season in fine style. Their first win was against Angola from whom they won first place in all events. Next the Devils gained third place in the Goshen Relays and won meets against Lakeland and Hometown by 65-53 and 71-39, respectively. At the Kokomo Relays the Satans took first place in their class beating Bremen 53-48. After their Kokomo victory the Satans returned home in a three-way meet with Ashley and Waterloo and won 99½-29-19½. Auburn's track team then went on the N.E.I.A.C. at Columbia City and placed 3rd with 36.

Dave Stebing hurled the 12 pound shot for new records. His best and new school record was 59' 9" set at the sectional meet. His field record was 56' 2". He gained first place at the Goshen Relays and the N.E.I.A.C. meet by hurling the shot 55' 9¾" and 54' 9¾". In the pole vault, Gary Brown broke the Earl Carr Memorial Field record and then went to Columbia City to break the N.E.I.A.C. record and school record with a vault of 12' 9¾". Mike Likens prove himself as one of the pace-setters of the team with a new school record in the low hurdles of 20.9.

SPIRITED RUNNERS NET VICTORIES

HARRIERS SET INDIVIDUAL RECORDS

Dave Stebing's self-control made him one of the outstanding attractions in the shot put event. He shows his concentration as he readies himself for the throw.

Gary Brown worked his way into a season of blue ribbons in warm-ups such as this one before the meet against Huntertown. His determination led to a victorious season for the Devils.

Mark Sponhower broke the field and school record in the high jump with a 6'  $\frac{1}{4}$ " effort. Mark also placed first in the N.E.I.A.C. meet. Harry Shook broke the field record with 2:04.6 in the 880. Underclassman Ken Folk set the school record in the 2 mile, a new event, with a time of 10:53.2.

Ten members of the '66 track squad qualified for the sectional at Fort Wayne: Gary Brown, pole vault; Mike Likens, low and high hurdles and high jump; Harry Shook, 880 and mile; Mark Sponhower, high jump and low hurdles; Dave Stebing, shot put; Barry Ochstein, broad jump; Dave Cramer, 100 and 220; Larry Myers, shot put; Phil Myers, 2 mile and 880; and Ken Folk, 2 mile.

Dave Stebing and Gary Brown won their way to the regional meet by taking first places in the sectional. Harry Shook and Mike Likens also placed in the sectional. In the regional Brown placed first and Stebing placed third, enabling both to enter the state meet. They both placed high in the standings at the state meet.

DEMONS SIZZLE

Girls competed in interscholastic track at the state competitions and gave an outstanding performance. Barb and Belinda Raub represented the girls team in the track relay event.

The girls' interscholastic teams this year were made up of many members of Auburn's Girls' Athletic Association. The girls participated in basketball, softball, and track. The basketball team played in two tournaments and won at the home court against Hamilton, Lakeland, and Wabash.

The girls' interscholastic teams engaged in sports as did the boys, by playing against teams representing other schools. They represented the school well by showing both enthusiasm and sportsmanship.

BATSMEN SPARKED BY SENIORS

D. Swant. Row 2: G. Stonestreet, J. Wilson, G. Grogg, R. Martin, R. Engle, K. Scott, E. Kaiser, J. Cantwell, B. Yoder.

Squaring around to attempt a bunt, Ron Martin carefully watches the ball on its journey to the plate. Ron had a fine season at third base for the Red and Black.

The baseball season for the Red and Black opened on a chilly afternoon at the Garrett diamond. The Railroaders broke the contest open in the top of the seventh with 8 unearned runs, and won the game, running away 13—3. Following losses to New Haven and Angola, Coach Platt's nine said good-bye to defeat. Highly ranked Columbia City became victim number one behind Dave Swant's one-hit pitching 5—1. Decatur and Berne each suffered humiliating 9—2 setbacks with Ron Martin poking a home run against the Bears. A previously postponed game with Bluffton left the Tigers crawling away licking their wounds 9—2. In the season's final game the Satans dropped the Concordia Cadets into a tie for first place with a 6—4 triumph. The Devils ended their '66 campaign 5 wins and 3 losses with a fine fourth place finish in the N.E.I.A.C.

GYMNASTS DEMONSTRATE ABILITIES

The annual spring gymnastics program gives Auburn gymnasts an opportunity to show their skills. The 1966 program, "When We Were Kids," was sponsored by the Auburn High School physical education teachers, Miss Loretta Young and Mr. Jack Wagner. Miss Young managed most of the decorating of the gymnasium. Each of the girls' physical education classes took a part in the management of the total program. Various skills were shown to the large crowd of parents and interested spectators at the program. Richard Bundy and Kirk Carpenter began the program with an exhibition of collegiate wrestling. Side horse, balance beam, trampoline, and tumbling rounded out the evening of interesting and active entertainment.

With skill and ease Sue Roberts shows the spectators the moves that led to a 3rd place in the Girls State Gymnastics Meet.

Richard Bundy and Kirk Carpenter gave an exposition in collegiate wrestling at the program. They explained some of the rules and moves involved in wrestling.

AWARDS

The two five hundred dollar Willennar Scholarships were awarded to Marsha Oberlin and John Morningstar. Miss Aileen Willennar is shown presenting the awards.

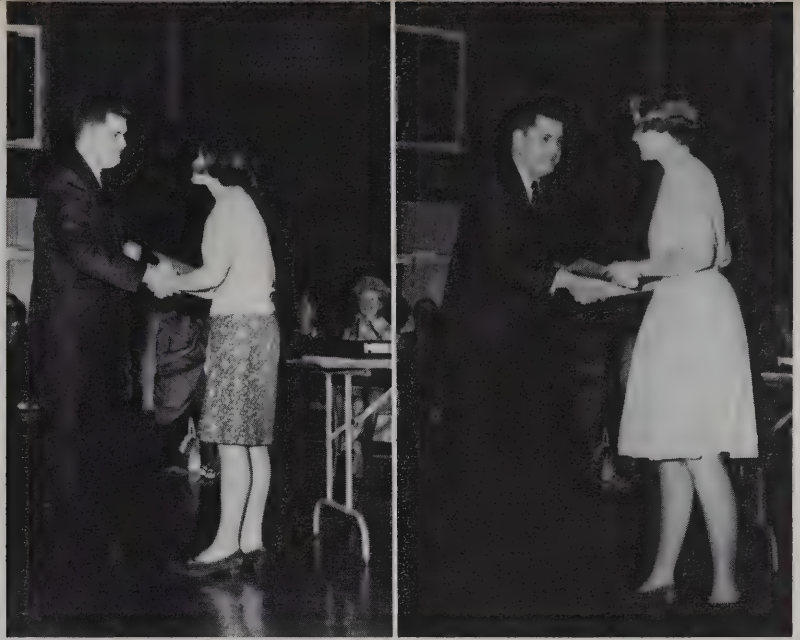

Mrs. Jack Maxton is shown presenting this year's Active Tri Kappa Award to Dick Ward.

The senior class voted Johanna Storey and John Wilson as citizens of the year. These two students were chosen for their service, character and all-around good citizenship.

NIGHT

Diann Kruse and Johanna Storey were the two recipients of the Lions' Club Scholarships. Each applicant had to submit a theme entitled "My Philosophy of Life."

Roberta Blevins received the Auburn Women's Club Sewing Award; Rex Shellenbarger was chosen by the band members and Mr. Norris to receive the Arian Award for the most outstanding band member; the Future Nurses of America Scholarship Award went to Sue Brown.

The DeKalb County Mental Health Award was awarded to Max Myers; Betty Johnson received the Sigma Beta Award for Mental Health Careers; the recipients of the one hundred dollar F.T.A.

DAISIES IN MAY . . .

During the evening Tim Albert announced that the boys representing Auburn in the Kokomo Relays had placed first. Tim presented Mr. King with the winning trophy. The sophomore Class was also well represented at the Prom by Mark Souder, Meg Sockrider, Bruce Bolinger and Pam Andres.

Mr. Raymond Struck, athletic director at Hanover College, captured the attention of the guests present with his wit and his dynamic speech. Mr. Struck extended greetings from Mr. Thompson, who is now principal at Madison High School.

Elaine Miller and Ken Scott enjoyed dancing to the music of the "Chargers" at the Junior-Senior Banquet. Elaine was crowned "Daisies in May Queen" and reigned over the evening's festivities.

TODAY'S SENIORS

TOMORROW'S LEADERS

The three speakers at the Baccalaureate Program were Reverend George W. Schuette of Saint Mark's Lutheran Church, Reverend William A. Heimach of the First Presbyterian Church and Reverend E. Lyle Harvey of the First Christian Church. Reverend Heimach addressed the graduates with a sermon entitled "Shun The Shadows."

THE END IS

Five members of the 1966 Graduating Class presented the Commencement Program. The Program was opened by Diann Kruse giving the Invocation; Richard Ward greeted everyone by giving the Welcome; following a number by the AHS Band,

Julie Williams presented the Intention speech; John Wilson gave the Farewell message; and Sue Brown closed the program by giving the Benediction.
